'COCOON' The Art exhibition

The students of the NKP Institute of medical sciences and research center, Nagpur displayed their plethora of artistic talent in the Art Exhibition "COCOON- the art of evolving". Their artworks were displayed amidst the Garden of Eden, a paradise on earth created by the students themselves. Showcasing their love for nature, towards the flora and the fauna, they created a whole ambiance of a forest showing mother nature in her full glory. Through this theme, the students gave a clear message that human beings should live in harmony with nature rather than living like a virus for the planet. We have to evolve to live, to progress, to sustain, and to maintain the balance of the environment.

The day started with the various on the spot competitions including rangoli, Mehendi, and face painting. The on the spot competitions were filled with competitors full of enthusiasm and energy competing against time to complete their artworks. Among the colorfulness of the rangolis and the aroma of henna that filled the room, the face painters were dabbling in the fields of horror.

Various other completions like drawing, painting, best out of waste, Diya decoration, Bottle decoration, Quilling and origami, doodling, greeting card, poster painting, and photography displayed she zeal of the students towards arts proving that Doctors are not only studious but one of the most artistic people in the world.

The judges of the event were the very renowned artists of Nagpur Mrs. Neha Munje and Mrs. Apurva Mandakekar. the exhibition was inaugurated at noon at the hands of Shri Ranjeet Babu Deshmukh, Chairman VSPM AHE in the presence of various other dignitaries including DR. Kajal Mitra, the dean, Dr. Vilas Thombre, Vice-dean, Dr. Aniruddha Deoke, Chairperson SWA 19-20, Dr. Arti Kasulkar, Co-chairperson SWA 19-20, Mr. Ketan Dekate, President SWA 19-20, And the whole SWA 19-20 team.

Ms. Sayali Narkhede introduces the theme of the exhibition and Mr. Ashish Mahor presented The Vote of thanks. The dean felicitated the judges.
